

HOUSTON REVIEWS NATION'S PRESENT ECONOMIC STATUS

Agriculture Secretary Predicts Government Budget of Four Billions.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Government expenditures of four billion dollars during the next fiscal year were forecast by Secretary Houston of the treasury department today in an address before the convention of the American Bankers' association, in which he covered a wide range of financial and economic problems of the nation.

The secretary outlined the treasury's program for handling the war debt, liquidation of which he said must go on steadily in order that final redemption be accomplished without disturbance to national life.

Appeals for Economy.

He appealed for strict economy, not only in our expenditures of federal, state, county and municipal, but also thrift on the part of our people, stating that the program necessitates the maintenance of taxation "after this fiscal year on a level of not less than four billion annually."

Mr. Houston said there were indications of falling receipts because there were no means of persisting in the course of business or incomes and profit.

The treasury program has been disarranged, the secretary said, by the "heavy burdens imposed by the transportation act."

He estimated that the total amount of which the government will pay the railroads at one billion dollars, about one-fourth of which has already been turned over to them. The remainder will be paid, the secretary thought, by early spring.

Turning to the demands of agricultural interests for government help, Mr. Houston said that "scarcely had a reduction in the cost of living manifested itself, when every producer manifested resistance."

Producers Kicking.

"Every producer is willing for the product of every other producer to decrease, but protests the decline in his own," he continued.
"There is much human nature in this, but not much reasonableness."

"The first impulse of many, who are searching for the way out is to turn to the government and especially to the treasury as the sole instrumentality of full economic salvation."

"If there is a fault, and I think there is, the blame rests largely with the public, which remains quiescent while interested groups are clamorous. When the people realize this fact, there will be a remedy, and not until then."

INVESTIGATION OF WHEAT DROP BEING CONDUCTED

From Wednesday's Daily

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Investigation of the recent drop in wheat prices, which leads to complaints from Senator Capper of Kansas, that the slump was manipulated by speculators, was begun today by the federal trades commission.

F. L. Gates, president of the Chicago board of trade, was the principal witness called. Senator and representatives of farmers organizations also were present.

Braley's and Deaver's Fabrications

In their tissue of fabrications, termed a petition, on which J. C. Deaver, L. A. Braley, et al., secured a temporary restraining order from District Judge J. W. Bolen, tying up the paving program of the city commissioners, the petitioners took a thrust at the Ada News which we desire to answer by simply giving it the lie flatfooted.

The main contention of the petitioners, it seems, is that the Ada Weekly News is not a legal publication, for among other allegations just as flimsy and foolish the petitions state "The Ada Weekly News is not a competent or qualified paper for publishing news affecting the city of Ada nor the inhabitants thereof."

And this in face of the fact that the Weekly News has been the official organ of both city and county for more than fifteen years. If their allegations were true, there has not been a legal action taken in this city or county for a decade, where legal publication was required, that would be legal or stand up. The Weekly News has handled the legal publishing for the city of Ada and the county of Pontotoc since statehood, and Deaver and Braley would have you believe that nothing the city or county has done in that length of time is legal.

This is the character of campaign being conducted by the paving knockers. Such clap-trap as this constitute the tissue of falsehoods and fabrications on which District Judge J. W. Bolen granted a temporary injunction restraining the commissioners from carrying out the expressed will of the people, and going ahead with the only project possible to take Ada out of the mud and the backwoods class and place her abreast of the times and the more progressive towns and villages of the state.

The people can let the falsehoods and insults of these "town killers" go unchallenged if they like, but their affidavit that the Ada News is not a legal publication is perjury and we halt here long enough to hurl their unmitigated lie back into their teeth.

CITY TO ASK DISTRICT COURT TO DISSOLVE THE PAVING INJUNCTION

To Mark Time Until November First When Case Is To Be Heard; Restraining Order But Delays City's Work.

The mayor and city commissioners have decided to mark time until November 1, when they will ask the district court to dissolve the injunction which are now holding up the paving program in Ada. The court has set that day for hearing the case. The petitioners will ask that the court order the city to hold up the paving work for the time being.

The several petitions allege that the legal procedure of the mayor and city commissioners in adopting the resolution calling for the paving of the city's streets is at fault; that the resolution was not given due publication, in that the Ada Weekly News is not the paper of general circulation and is not circulated among those property owners affected; and further that the property owners would suffer considerable loss if the work were to be done at the present. This last statement is made with the thought in mind that paving materials will decline in price, and that a much lower estimate may be had for the work by waiting.

No Bonds to be Sold.

Mention is made of the fact that the present conditions of the bond market would result in the city's improvement bonds selling below par. As a matter of fact, no bonds are to be sold by the city for putting down the pavement. Instead, ten warrants are issued to the contractor, one payable each year by the property owner after the work has been done.
The transaction is entirely between the contractor and the property owner, and no loss is to be suffered by the city by the sale of bonds below par.

The contractor who does the work is required to put up three bonds, one known as a construction bond which guarantees the fulfillment of the contract to the letter, protecting the city against

ADA SUED FOR $5,000 FOR USING DUMPING GROUND

A damage suit for $5,000 was filed in district court yesterday by Willie A. Latta, who alleges that damage to this amount was done to a piece of property belonging to him by the city in using this property for the city dumping ground.

interior materials and guaranteeing that the work will be finished within a specified time; the second bond is known as a statutory bond, which guarantees that all labor will be paid; and the third is a maintenance bond, which guarantees the stability of the work for a certain length of time after the work has been finished.

The city officials in carrying out the work are desirous of working with the property owner in order to get the best results for the money invested. The property owners are consulted as to whether they want concrete or rock asphalt in their particular district, and are given a voice in the placing of the bids. The city officials believe that best results can be obtained by working together, and they do not want it said that anyone profited on the side by the selection of a contractor.

It is not believed that those people who have signed the petitions are opposed to paving, but have been led to believe that their money will be wasted.

Another contention is that the bottom has fallen out of everything and that the country is going to the dogs. Someone is shouting "Wolf!" and howling calamity and panic. Prices have a tendency to settle back to normal, but that does not mean that the wolf is at our door. There are no unemployed in Ada, and conditions in this city haven't such a gloomy prospect.

Above all, not a cent will have to be paid by the property owners for paving until one year after the work has been done, or next September and then only ten percent of the cost.

Judge J. W. Bolen, who issued the injunctions in the district court last night that the city should entertain a petition from the city officials at any time for dissolving the injunctions.

In the meantime, the work of advertising for bids, etc., will have to be done over again.

The case has been set for hearing November 10.

The city has been using the piece of land in question as a dumping ground for several years. The mayor was under the impression that the land belonged to J. O.
Tipton, who rented it to the city for $100 a year. Tipton lives near Ada.

The plaintiff asked the court to issue a permanent injunction against the city restraining it from using the land for a dumping place or from using the incinerating plant on the place.

ROBERTSON SAYS OPERATORS ARE TO BE BLAMED

Governor Explains Statement Relative To State Ownership of Mines.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20.— Discussing his statement made at Muskogee yesterday in which he said he favored state ownership of coal mines providing conditions were not improved, Governor Robertson said here today that of the operators, miners and railroads blamed for the coal situation, the miners were the least of the three to be blamed for the coal shortage.

"Coal operators of Oklahoma are interested in keeping the supply of coal behind the demand," the governor said, "and are pursuing a cold-blooded policy of keeping the price up to a high point, paying no heed to the miners' wages so long as they get an adequate return on their sale price."

"The operators would as soon pay the men $20 a day and pass the cost on to the public," the governor continued.

"Coal is a natural resource and belongs to the people," Governor Robertson continued, "and there should be no more monopoly by any person or group of persons on this resource than a monopoly on air."

"The coal miners will object to state ownership of mines because it would do away with unions and strikes and the operators would not want to relinquish their property."

HALF DOZEN LOST IN ERIE TRAIN WRECK

By the Associated Press

ERIE, Penn., Oct. 20.—Six persons are known to have been killed and at least 15 injured when a Chicago and Boston limited on the New York Central railroad side-swiped the Buffalo-Cleveland train, west bound, at the west end of the Union station here today. Four of the bodies taken from the wreck are those of women.

The Chicago and Boston express ran through an open switch not far from the station and side-swiped the train from Buffalo on its way west. The third day coach from the engine was overturned and all the casualties are believed to have occurred there. Rescue forces were quickly at work and in a short time six bodies were taken out. Parts of another body, rescue workers said, was in plain sight, but so far they had been unable to extricate it from the wreckage. Fifteen of the injured were removed to hospitals. Some of them, physicians state are so badly hurt that their recovery is doubtful.

FOOD PRICES DROP IN SEPTEMBER

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The decline in retail prices of foodstuff during September was placed at two per cent by the department of labor's bureau of labor statistics in its monthly report today on food costs.

Some foodstuffs, notably potatoes and sugar, sustained a marked decrease in price, while others, including such commodities as eggs, pork chops and oranges, underwent increases ranging from eight per cent for oranges to 12 per cent for eggs. The drop in the price of potatoes was placed at 22 per cent, sugar 20 per cent, cabbage 14 per cent and coffee six per cent.

The decline in retail food prices, however, according to the bureau's figures, did not keep pace with the drop in wholesale quotations.
The latter were placed at 5 per cent compared with 2 per cent decreases in the retailers' prices to the consumer.

ELKS' MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NEARS CLOSE

This is the last week new members will be solicited for the Elks Club. Every team worker is requested to turn in their applications to their respective captains, Joe Allen or Hugh Taylor, not later than Monday evening before 7 o'clock. There will be considerable over 100 applications and since it will take so long to appoint committees on each application, and since it will be necessary to carefully count each side's applications to see who won the contest, it is desired that every team worker make doubly sure that his applications are turned in and to be present Monday night, October 25, and learn the results of the drive.

There will be no other work except appointing committees on new applications. The next meeting night, November 8, the committees will report. The next meeting night, November 22, no other work on hand except voting. The next night, November 23, will be initiation and the big banquet, to be paid for by the losing side.

November 25 is Thanksgiving day and the Elks big party and dance for the new members, it is believed, will eclipse anything of the kind ever before given in this part of the state. Already the plans are being laid for this event, and nothing will be left undone to make the affair a success in every particular.

FERRIS FLAYS HARRELD FOR FALSE METHODS

Nominee for Senator Tells Sapulpa Voters G. O. P.
Is Unscrupulous.

Special to the Ada News.

SAPULPA, Oct. 19.—Declaring that he regretted that his opponent was conducting a campaign of misrepresentation, making declarations that have no foundation in fact, Scott Ferris, democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, in two speeches today again took J. W.
Harreld to task for voting to allow Victor Berger, "the master disloyalist," a seat in congress, after Berger had been tried and convicted of treason to his country.

Ferris asked all in his audience who would have voted as Harreld did to hold up their hands. No hands went up.

"Mr. Harreld in all of his speeches had made three or four direct false statements," Ferris added. "He either knew they were without foundation in fact or did not investigate to ascertain whether or not they were true. Whichever premises is true, he had proven himself unworthy of the votes of honest citizens."

Ferris evoked prolonged applause when he bombarded the position of Harding and Harreld on the league of nations. He linked them up with the avian vultures who favor separate peace with Germany, its resulting compulsory military training and the expenditure of millions for a large army and navy.

Harding for Separate Peace.

"Senator Harding has promised a separate peace with Germany.
Mr. Harreld voted for a separate peace with Germany. While Mr.
Harding has wobbled around so much on the issue that many are confused, he emphatically stated that he favored rejection of the league. My opponent has taken the same stand. What would be the consequences should our country take this leap into the dark?
Here is one of them: should America thus throw down her allies, she would forfeit the advantage accruing to her through the treaty of Versailles, which, in brief, is the validation of her seizure of German ships and German private property amounting perhaps, to half a billion dollars, to reimburse herself and her citizens for losses sustained through German aggression in the late war.

"Losing the advantage of such a validation, America surrenders the whip hand to her late enemy. By the treaty of 1828 between the United States and Germany—a treaty not legally abrogated—each stipulated that in case of war between the two countries, the property of their respective nationals shall not be subject to seizure for indemnity, if, aside from the Versailles treaty, appeal were made today to international law, America would have to restore every dollar of this seized property.

"In case she refused, the full irony of the situation would become apparent. He late allies would be in no position to stand behind her, since she deliberately deserted them. On the contrary, should Germany enter the league, as she no doubt will very soon, she might invoke against America all the instrumentalities of the league itself would give publicity, boycott, embargo, even war itself—to enforce the award of the international court. 'We can whip the world, if it comes to a showdown,' says the American jingo. Perhaps we can, but would it be worth while for America to carry this chip on her shoulder? By the democratic solution, we can have our way and also the love and respect of the world at the same time."

WHERE STATES GOT THEIR NAMES

Indians, English, Spanish, and Other Nations Gave Titles.

The states derived their names from various sources.

Ponce de Leon named Florida in commemoration of the day of his landing, the "Feast of Flowers," or Easter Sunday.

Georgia was named in honor of George II of England who established a colony there in 1733.

North and South Carolina derived their names from Charles IX of France, Charles being "Carolus" in Latin.

"Virgin Queen". The "virgin queen," Elizabeth, gave Virginia its name.

Maryland was named after Henrietta Maria, queen of Charles I of England.

Admiral Penn, the father of the founder of Pennsylvania, named that state, the name signifying "Penn's Woods."

New Jersey was named after Sir George Cartaret, who was governor of the island of Jersey in the British Channel.

New York derived its name from the Duke of York.

From Indian Word.

Connecticut is a derivation of the Indian word "Quinnitukut," meaning "upon the long river," the Connecticut river.

Rhode Island was named after the island of Rhodes in the Mediterranean, because of its fancied resemblance to that island.

Massachusetts is an Indian name, signifying the country "about the great hills, the Blue Hills."

Vermont comes from the French "vermont" or green mountain.

Maine in 1739 named New Hampshire after Hampshire, England.

HIG ENROLLMENT REPORTED AT A. AND M. COLLEGE

STILLWATER, Oct. 20.—The enrollment to date at Oklahoma A. and M. college is by far the largest in the history of that school.

Practically every department has found it necessary to increase its teaching staff in order to care for the increased attendance.

Twenty-one new teachers have been added to the faculty. A part of these were elected to fill vacancies caused by resignations, but many were added because of the increased attendance, and the reorganization of the Schools of Education and Commerce and Marketing, each of which has a greatly increased enrollment this year.

The board of regents has increased the appropriation for teachers' salaries by about fifty thousand dollars.

Present indications are that the attendance this year will far exceed that of any previous year in the history of the college.

PARIS PULOS SURE MILLIONS SHOULD BE READY FOR HIM

Chasing a million dollars is no mean pastime.

The fact is that it is universally done but in most cases with the almost universal result that it isn't found in the pot at the end of the rainbow. However, one Paris Pulos, a native of the land of Ulysses, is taking the matter to heart literally and causing much trouble for the clerks at the postoffice. Pulos makes several trips a day to the postoffice to inquire about large sums of money which he claims are to be sent to him from Greece. None of the money has yet appeared but he is willing to blame it on the mail service and let it go at that.

At each call at the office and with the accompanying refusal he makes a note of the amount which should have come in a little memorandum book. At the present time the total in the book is considerably above the two million dollar mark but at the same time this wizard of the filthy lucre is unable to donate any actual cash to "slush funds" or anything.

Cloth worth $350,000 obtained from England and America was recently distributed in Poland.

ATTENTION GIVEN PEOPLE'S HEALTH

Oklahoma Becoming More Interested in Problem of Saving Lives.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20.—(Special).—The state of Oklahoma is beginning to realize that human lives are even more valuable than those of animals. We spend thousands yearly to protect pigs from cholera, but comparatively little to protect our children from tuberculosis and other diseases. I believe this meeting has shown that the state is wakening to the value of human life.

This was the comment of Jules Schevitz, general secretary of the Oklahoma Public Health Association, following the joint conference of that organization and the state health department here.

The meeting was addressed by Governor Robertson, Senator R. L. Owen, R. H. Wilson, superintendent of public instruction, and other high state officials. Other speakers were J. F. Owens, president of the association; Dr. S. J. Crumline, state health officer of Kansas, and Dr. M. P. Ravenel, president of the American public health association. The meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic of its kind ever held in the state.

Among other things, plans were discussed for the tuberculosis seal sale in Oklahoma from December 1 to 15. Proceeds of this sale are used to finance public health work in the state.

Resolutions were adopted changing the name of the Oklahoma Tuberculosis association to the Oklahoma Public Health association; asking an appropriation of $500,000 from the next legislature to complete the three tuberculosis sanatoria now under construction; asking the establishment of a state bureau of public health nursing, and suggesting an increase in pay for certain members of the state health department.

J. F. Owens, Oklahoma City, was re-elected president, E. K. Gaylord, Oklahoma City, president emeritus; Jules Schevitz, Oklahoma City, general secretary, and Dr. O. H. McCarty, Tulsa, Tams Bixby, Muskogee, and Dr. L. J. Moorman, Oklahoma City, vice-presidents.

NEW YORK.—Forty-five miles on a gallon of gasoline!

That is the claim made by its inventors for the "Cotey" automobile—the latest product soon to be placed on the market.

What will accomplish this record of high mileage, say its sponsors, is its 4-cylinder aircooled motor, combined with a light construction throughout the car.

The Cotey is the result of the combined effort of three men who sought to counteract the rising cost of gasoline in its production, with a machine that would go farther on the same amount of fuel. Two of the men got their knowledge of engines from airplanes.

Capt. Frank T. Coffyn was one of the first fliers in the country. He is one of the three surviving members of the old "Wright team." James B. Taylor jr., served two years as a test pilot for naval planes. Everitt S. Cameron has had 20 years' experience in building aircooled motors.

Orders For 250,000

"It is the air-cooled motor and the consequent cheapness of our car that will enable it to make the enormous mileage we claim for it," Captain Coffyn said today.

"So great has been the response in automobile circles to our announcement that we already have orders on hand for 250,000 cars, or as many as we can make in the next five years. The car will have a 4-cylinder motor and will be made both in two and four-passenger models. Both are listed at $1,200.

"Of course, other cars have air-cooled motors and these cars have shown greater fuel economy than those with heavy, cumbersome water-cooled systems. But we claim that at least we have a perfect air-cooled motor, one that will function 100 percent under all conditions and that by its lightness and strength will make possible enormous savings in gasoline.

Besides emphasizing the car's cheapness, Coffyn points out that it will weigh only 300 pounds. Part of this lightness is due to the body which will be of laminated wood, or wood in thin sheets, such as are used in airplanes. And, also due to this lightness, the tires will last 15,000 miles!

"The car has a tread of only 48 inches," Coffyn explained. "This is eight inches narrower than the standard width. The machine will be built low and will be fitted to work its way in and out of traffic."

"It is a daring car. It has challenged tradition. It has dared establish custom in ignoring formal relation between horse-power and weight."

"I believe that in our machine we have made the first definite step forward that automobile construction has known, in some years. It is the answer to the ever-mounting price of gasoline."

COLONEL WEAVER

Home! What joyous meaning the word holds! Love, happiness, peace, rest, all! How fitting then that Colonel Otis B. Weaver should have been brought back to Ada to be laid gently to rest under the green sward of the home he loved so well. He came to Ada when the city was hardly more than a trading post, with but a handful of dwellings, one general store and a small postoffice. Ada became home to him, and its people became his people. He helped to organize the townsite company which laid the foundation for the Ada of today. And above all, he undertook the task of being the torch bearer for the people of his community, serving for years as editor of the Ada Weekly News.

Though the people of Shawnee, in their love for him, justly feel that he had a home in their midst, we of Ada feel proud that his dust will mingle with the sod of the place he held so near and dear. There is solace in the thought that his mortal remains will find rest near us, even though there is bitterness in the thought that such a man's man should have been taken from this life while yet only in his prime.

But he has lived life to its fullest measure during his 44 years on earth. His was a life of action, of struggle with adversity, of big accomplishments.

He was a real American, a true Oklahoman.

Peace to his ashes!

THE SHAME OF A CITY

During the past two months we have visited most of the leading towns of Oklahoma and a great many villages of Oklahoma. We have had a fine chance of comparing Ada with other leading towns of the state and we have been pleased to observe that in a great many respects Ada is superior to all of her competitors. As a home center and as an educational center and as a live business center Ada yields to no other town of her class in Oklahoma.

But in one respect at least Ada can learn from almost any town or village of the state. Beyond any question Ada is the dirtiest town of her population in Oklahoma. It is unpleasant to say this and it is more unpleasant to know that it is true. And it is of course decidedly unpopular to say this, for many of our people prefer to close their eyes to a painful truth and ignore a patent condition that is shameful.

Only yesterday morning we were deeply chagrined to overhear a conversation on a railway train in which the untidy and unsanitary condition of Ada was the topic of discussion. Men who have visited every important point in the state unanimously agreed that Ada is a very dirty town and emphatically advertised that fact in their conversation. It was humiliating to the nth degree to hear this unpleasant fact openly stated in a crowded railway train.

The unsightly appearance of our home city is emphasized just now by the long days and nights of heavy rainfall. Everything in Oklahoma is mildewed just now and even the best looks its worst. But at all times the conditions about us are uninviting and at many places are positively repulsive. Many places on the sidewalks of our city are impassable to pedestrians. Many places in the residence sections are nothing but collecting places for the cans and offal and effluvia and dank weeds and mosquitos. The limited mileage of paving puts us far down in the village class.

Resentment deep and bitter awaits anyone who has the temerity to publicly advertise this condition. But no cancer was ever cured by ignoring its ravages. We need not expect to cure this civic disease by playing the ostrich and with head hidden in the sand ignoring a shameful condition. We must take notice of our surroundings and we must remove the cause of our reproach. And we must get far away from the idea that we are still a village and can afford to endure village ailments. We are now a city, and if we expect to command the respect that is a city's due, we must wear the clothes of a city. We must establish and maintain civic decency. We must get away from the weeds and garbage heaps.

The average price of cotton for forty years under Republican administration was 8c. The average price of cotton under eight years of Democratic administration has been 20c. Vote for Harding and put the price of cotton back to an 8c average.

The Republican campaign in Pontotoc County was opened by a man trained with Bill Haywood during the war. When paid disloyalists fight the Democratic party, that party is right.

If the Democrats win the November election, Governor Cox will be president. If the Republicans win the election, God alone knows who will be president.

RUSSO-POLISH PEACE ENVOYS

State Press Comment

Oklahoma News: The politicians haven't said a word about the plain people since women got the vote.

Miami News: Burglars got $200 hidden in a Toledo man's book. The copyright law doesn't cover this kind of literary theft.

Oklahoma News: Chewing gum is the only article that has clung to its pre-war price. It has great sticking powers.

Dallas News: A friend of the old mayor of Cork declares that the latter is not being fed and eventually will die. But whether he is or not, won't he?

Dallas News: Those who are expecting a revolution in England probably have convinced themselves that Englishmen are no longer English.

Muskogee Daily Phoenix: After all, the arrangement is fair enough. The price of coal gives one cold feet but makes him hot under the collar.

Vinita Advertiser: It has got to the point in the campaign where both parties are busy reporting recruits from each other's party. In America both men and women have the privilege of changing their political views. And the bosses of both parties have no effective way to make the independent thinker wear the party yoke.

Vinita Journal: Doesn't it strike you that both parties are spending too much time on international affairs when things are in such a critical condition at home, especially for the farmer?

Capper's Weekly: An expert announces it is almost impossible to tell leather made from fish skins from good calfskin. That's fine. But what the public would like to know is whether there will be any way of telling the difference in the price. The expert's silence on that point is disappointing if not sinister.

Durant Daily Democrat: The following marriage notice recently appeared in the society column of the Kingston Messenger. Quite a crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey's Sunday at 10:30 a. m. to witness the marriage of W. C. Pennington to Miss Nancy Lindsey. I shall not attempt to describe how they were dressed, for if you want to know you should have been there to have seen them. They were neat as pins. Hilliard Young and Miss King took them to Kingston and they went north on the Frisco.

Miami News: Doctors successfully prescribed for an appendicitis patient in mid-ocean. He's lucky, perhaps, that they couldn't put a knife on him by wireless.

When the breath is bad and the appetite disordered, Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy needed. It purifies the stomach, liver and bowels, sweetens the breath, promotes vigor and cheerfulness. Price $1.50 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents. adv

GO TO THEATRE

American.

Much typical New York atmosphere is incorporated in "39 East," Rachel Crothers' play in which Constance Binney is appearing on the screen of the American theater today. There are the theaters and part of a real Broadway show, as well as privileged glimpses into a star's dressing room and pretty chorus girls. Then there is a scene in Central Park that welcome spot of green in the heart of the city where many a weary job-hunter has rested his aching feet and distracted mind. Another typical bit is seen in the boarding house, an example of hundreds of its kind found anywhere between Forty-second and Fifty-ninth streets.

New Liberty.

The New Liberty theater is offering its patrons a treat today and tomorrow in announcing that Robert Warwick and Elaine Hammerstein are featured in "The Mad Lover," a lavishly produced romantic drama written and directed by Leonce Perrot for Pathe.

The story revolves around a man who, though he loves his wife dearly, finds it difficult to give up his bachelor habits of years. At a house party the wife indulges in an innocent flirtation and the mad jealousy this arouses in the husband heart teaches him the lesson he needed.

McSwain.

Billie Burke makes her return to the motion pictures in "Away Goes Prudence," a fascinating funny Paramount Arterraft production, after a brief interval spent on the stage in "Caesar's Wife." This is an original story by Josephine Lovett and will be the chief attraction at the McSwain theater today.

Perhaps it was Miss Burke's little sojourn on the stage that caused her to show renewed zest and charm in the picture, but at any rate she has originated a role showing an over abundance of pep, mischievousness and fun. She has the part of Prudence Thorne, a young society girl who spends all her leisure time in her airplane and when it comes to a choice between her lover, Hewlitt Harland, and the plane, she decides in favor of the later.

She fakes a kidnapping in order to get money from her father for a new plane, but Hewlitt turns the tables on her and arranges a kidnapping of his own. The crooks who aid he has enlisted make a real kidnapping of it, and make Prudence walk the chalk line incessantly. Finally, at a house-breaking, the crooks are captured and Prudence manages to escape to her parents' home. There, when she is about to be arrested, her father discovers her identity and Hewlitt makes a shame-faced confession of his plot.

"Sex" Coming Tomorrow.
"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Adrienne Renault, divinity of the Frivolity, never inclined toward this theory for the simple reason that she could never imagine herself situated as other women.

Yet the eternal problem of Sex became Adrienne's problem, too, when fate so ruled, and this wonderful creature of New York's night life, this Well-Beloved of the most favored men in Manhattan, found herself as incapable of solving the equation as the veriest novice in the game of love.

"Sex" is a story of universal import. When this powerful W. W. Hodgkinson release comes to the American Theater it will be seen that its basic theme is so succinct and familiar that it will reflect the problems and questions that have beset almost all of us. Yet in his treatment of this age-young story, J. Parker Read Jr., the producer, has introduced an artistic element of delicacy and nobility and a scenic lavishness that lifts this screen play into the realm of those few photodramas that have startled the world and reflected universal conditions that can be remedied by only two medicines—Faith and Constancy.

There is a cleverly concealed moral in "Sex" for the quick-witted. The climax comes in Adrienne's life when her own husband is won away from her by the same Daisy Henderson of Cobb Corners in whom she developed the feminine arts of allure and the dance in their days in the Frivolity together. It is then that Adrienne lifts her hands to heaven and all the tragedy of "Sex," all the futility of a loveless woman's life and all the poignancy of the severance of the marriage relation are expressed in the heart-broken query:

"Oh God! Why did this have to happen to me?"

What happened to Adrienne? Did she suffer further or win back the love of her erring husband and "live happily ever after"? Did she kill Daisy Henderson when she had murder in her heart? Or did she wish Daisy luck and move on to a new conquest? Was Adrienne wicked of a "good woman" or was she just—woman? These are the questions that "Sex" alone can answer. See this Hodgkinson release at the American Theater Thursday with Irving Cummings, Myrtle Stedman, William Conklin and Peggy Pearce in the cast supporting "the most interesting star on the screen today"—Louise Glaum.

Laughtertown.
Oh, show me the road to Laughtertown.
For I have lost my way.
I wandered out of the path one day.
When my heart was broken, my hair turned gray.
And I can't remember how to play;
I've quite forgotten how to be gay;
It's all through sighing and weeping, they say.
O, show me the road to Laughtertown.
For I have lost my way.

Would ye learn the road to Laughtertown, Oh, ye would have lost the way?
Would ye have your heart, tho your heart be gray?
Go learn from a little child each day.
Go serve his wants and play his play.
And catch the lilt of his laughter gay
And follow his dancing feet as they stray;
For he knows the road to laughtertown.
Oh, ye who have lost the way.
—Katherine D. Blake.

Harris-Copeland.
Roger Harris and Miss Lily Copeland were quietly married at the Sanitarium in Sherman last Sunday. The wedding was performed in the sick room where Mr. Harris was confined pending an operation. This is a pleasant surprise to their many friends. Mr. Harris is well known in Ada and his bride also well known here, is very popular among the younger set. They will make their home in Ada after Mr. Harris recovers enough to return home.

Sunday Wreck Victims Reported As Being Better at Hospital

Miss Gertrude Carlton, who was severely injured in an automobile wreck Sunday morning, is reported resting at the Faust and Lewis hospital here. The doctors are anxiously watching developments in her condition and are hopeful of saving her right leg, which was crushed and mangled when it was caught between the car and a tree as the car rolled over.

The other two who were injured, Miss Lily Elam and Luther Correll, are reported better. Correll's right leg was broken just above the ankle.

MANY SUITS SHOW THIS LOOSE PANEL EFFECT IN BACK

The new fall suits show many touches which have not been seen for some time. Embroidery and fur trimming are two of the most notable features. The fur usually trims the collar and often forms tabs or pocket patches, as on this pretty suit of peach bloom. Another feature which is often seen is the loose panel back effect with a belted front. That is a very distinctive feature of this suit.

RAILROADS HELP MAKE BUSINESS

American Bankers Are Told Better Conditions Are Coming.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Improved business conditions generally during future years because of the bettered railroad situation resulting from the new transportation act were forecast by John J. Pulley, president of the Savings Banks' association of New York, speaking yesterday before the American Bankers' association.

"Adversity in transportation spells disaster in business," declared Mr. Pulley, who addressed the bankers' convention on the effect of the transportation act on the credit of the railroads. He asserted that general bankruptcy and disorganization of nation's railway system would have resulted last spring and had not the new law "wisely" provided for the roads during the period of transition from government control to private operation.

The increase of railroad rates recently made by the interstate commerce commission under the authority of the new law, Mr. Pulley said, added "hundreds of millions of dollars to the value of railroad holdings of investing institutions."

The new rates, he said further, will prove advantageous to the medium grade railroad bonds, and should tend to give added assurance to investors that early maturities will be accounted for properly. The $300,000,000 revolving fund, provided by the law for rail equipment loans, also was praised as benefitting the rehabilitation of railway credit.

As a third factor improving railroad credit, Mr. Pulley cited the National Railway Service corporation, recently organized by the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities as an agency of the interstate commerce commission to aid in making loans and obtaining new equipment.

The present acute car shortage, Mr. Pulley continued, would have been averted had this corporation been in existence in the past months.

The Harvest Days

Now come the harvest days, the time when nature yields up the fullness of the season.

Harvest days as well for many who are not husbandmen and who do not get their living directly from the soil, but who reap the benefits of the persistent use of the Want Columns.

To reap a harvest of return from the Wants, use them in supplying the needs of the household and of business in buying, selling, renting, hiring, exchanging and in many other ways.

Many find it profitable to keep in touch with the NEWS WANT ADS.

Read them if you want something. Use them if you want to dispose of something. They are "cash on the barrel head," but they pay big returns. If you can't bring the copy conveniently we will send for it.

CHICAGO.—Thousands of years ago when the world was young, the Egyptians used the sign language in various ways to transmit thoughts. They carved pictures on stone tablets, pictures that conveyed messages of love and tales of great adventure.

With the forward march of civilization there has been a sweeping evolution of the sign language. Its most striking use today is on the grain exchange. With the recent resumption of dealing in wheat through contracts for future delivery the sign language again became the method by which thousands of bushels are daily and hourly bought and sold.

The simple sign language plus an inflexible code of honor makes it possible for members of the Chicago Board of Trade, a world grain market where the law of supply and demand dominates, to transact bargains involving thousands in the twinkling of an eye, despite the din of many voices. There are but eight motions in the price code covering fractional changes. Held horizontally the hand denotes prices; held vertically it signals the quantity. The palm out from the dealer shows a desire to sell; turned inward a desire to buy. There is seldom a misunderstanding in signals. When this does occur it is quickly corrected by official recorders who register every deal. Besides the futures market, the board handles 400,000,000 bushels of cash or spot grain annually.

U.S. DEVELOPS ITS OWN POTASH

Americans Have Cancelled
Orders of $40,000,000
From Germany.

BERLIN.—The German "Kalisyndikat"—the syndicate under government direction supervising Germany's vast potash business—has been trying dictatorial methods on American business people.

The result is that American business is "practically saying to the Kalisyndikat, 'Go hang; we'll develop most of our own potash.'"

And, American potash buyers are suiting their actions to their words.

Consequently, the outlook at present is that the American market will not absorb more than $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 worth of German potash a year as against five to ten times as much were the syndicate in a conciliatory mood.

When Clash Began.
The clash between American consumers and German producers dates back to the period just before the Kapp coup. The American buyers had contracted for a vast quantity of potash—understood to be around $40,000,000 worth. Then came Kapp and upset industry and the government. Subsequently, the workers in the potash fields held that they wanted more money, making fulfillment of the contract at the original price impossible.

Since then, negotiations have been under way toward arrangement of a new contract. But, the Americans have found that the syndicate itself was inclined to be dictatorial. In fact, one of the interested parties told the writer.

"Many of the men in the syndicate are kaiser appointees. And I can tell you that the kaiser himself in his palmist days was never more dictatorial than those men in the syndicate. As a result of their attitude, America is turning her efforts to development of its own potash resources.

"Sources on which work was halted directly after the war are again starting up, especially since consumers have guaranteed a minimum price of $2 a unit for the next five years. This relieves us of the German domination, and makes it possible to take a much smaller quantity than would otherwise be the case. They thought they had us on the hip, but that is not the case."

Potash is one of the vital products in fertilization. Germany has hitherto had a grip on the world's market, but the stimulus given the American industry by the arbitrary position of the syndicate is loosening that grip.

WHY SIGN BEFORE YOU READ?

Too Many Seem Pleased to Affix Their Signatures to Anything Put Before Them.

Judge Albion T. Wright said at a lawyers' banquet in Cincinnati: "Sign here, please." Gentlemen, it's astonishing how these three simple words hypnotize thousands of people, causing them to affix their signatures to contracts and agreements that they will repent all their lives.

"I signed the paper without reading it," a witness said to me one day. "Mr. Blank told me what its contents were and I, naturally, thought that I could trust him."

"Yes," said I, "but you should have remembered that when a person asks you to sign something he, for his part, doesn't trust your word—he insists on having it in black and white. Well, then, why should you take his word when he won't take yours?"

MOUNDS MAN BURIED IN GASOLINE BLAST

SAPULPA.—Ray Cross, 23 years old, was blown 150 feet and killed instantly at Mounds, ten miles south of Sapulpa, this afternoon when a huge gaso tank on which he was working exploded.

Cross was an acetylene welder, and the flame from his torch is blamed for the blast.

Two other men working near the tank were injured. Damage is estimated at $7,000. Cross' body was horribly burned, it was stated.

Normal Notes

Prof. Norris reports the addition of two new planes and a table saw to his manual training equipment.

Miss Esther White was forced to leave school this week on account of ill health.

Mrs. Lon Braly, chairman of Normal visitor yesterday and was incidentally looking after the interests of the club.

The Normal students will organize a Young Men's and Women's democratic club today. All students interested are asked to join.

Miss Helen Turner, a former teacher in East Central, is now located in Grandwood, New Jersey, where she is teaching art in the schools of that city.

Miss Kate Knight entertained at dinner Sunday, at Mrs. Land's Harold Hordon of Tulsa, Harold Strom and Edward Martin, both students of the Normal.

Raymond Casky, editor-in-chief of the Pesagi, was busy with his kodak during the game Saturday. If you wish to see a result of the activities buy a Pesagi next spring.

Miss Effie Hodges, a former student of the school, but now teaching near Sulphur, was at East Central yesterday making arrangements to take up some correspondence work.

Misses Gladys Griffith, Pearl and Ruby Gay, Lillian Thompson, Bess and Oma Laird, Vera Lane, Mrs. Bullock, Jim Hodges and Leslie Stewart were among the former students who attended the football game Saturday.

The Normal school takes this opportunity to publicly express its appreciation to the students and teachers of the high school and the citizens of Ada for their splendid support during the game Saturday.

The following is a list of the number of students in each class in the Normal: graduate students 11; seniors 45; juniors 84; senior preps 39; junior preps 42; soph preps 83; freshmen preps 69; This makes a total of 373 regular students enrolled.

The football game between the Catholic university and East Central normal to be played there next Friday has been canceled and the coach has been trying to get a game for this place on that date. If he is successful announcement will be made later.

The Forum Debating society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock. A mock trial is the main feature of the program and all visitors who care to come out are invited. The program will be good and a pleasant hour for those who come is assured.

County Superintendent Floyd has called a meeting of the Pontotoc county school teachers to meet at the Normal on October 30. Hughes county teachers will meet at Holdenville Friday, October 22, and the Okmulgee county teachers will meet at Okmulgee on October 23. President Linscheid has been asked to speak at both meetings.

President Linscheid has returned from a trip to several East Central Oklahoma towns and reports that he finds interest in all of them good toward East Central. He states that everywhere a person meets friends of the institution and no where do they find any dissatisfied citizens. This era of good feeling means increased attendance in the spring and summer terms.

Secretary E. C. Wilson of the East Central Teachers' association is having programs printed for the meeting of the East Central district to meet at the Normal on November 26 and 27. It is estimated that more than one thousand people will be present and educators of national reputation will address the meeting. Among them are Dr. Snedder of the Columbia university; Byron W. King of Pittsburgh; Dr. Bennett of Peoria; Dr. Brooks of Bayar, and Dr. Jewel of Arkansas. In all probability this will be the greatest aggregation of educators that ever appeared before a teachers' meeting in Oklahoma.

The seniors cleared a new little sum selling refreshments during the game Saturday. It was a piece of good luck to them that some were left over as this furnished an excuse for a social occasion Saturday night in the reception room at the Normal. The report by all who attended.

FOR TORPID LIVER

Tennessee Lumberman Talks of His Successful Use of Black-Draught for Colds and Headaches.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for years, in fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A. Eagan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I get a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and it sets me right."

"Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."

Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance that Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from a lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Theford's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work.

Ask for Theford's Black-Draught, and insist on the genuine. NC-137
